GOES TO HOSPITAL, SO FRIENDS FINISH BUILDING HIS HOME—When Mr. N. J. Reynolds of North York, Ont., went to hospital suffering second degree burns to his face, chest and shoulders after an explosion at his place of employment, his kindly neighbors, seen on the roof of his home, pitched in to finish the job for him.—S.N.S. photo.

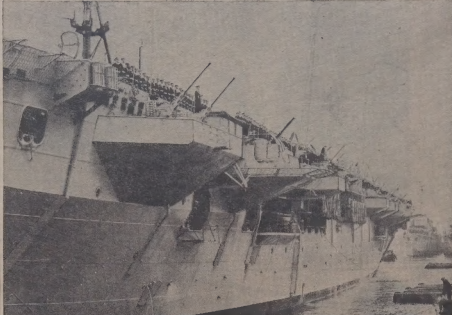

CONSERVATION WORK REWARDED—Years of planning, work on conservation program for his farm have paid off in many ways for W. C. Harris, King Creek Farm, near King. He sees contour plowing, has planted windbreaks and given the land a general face lifting. Reward for his work was received recently by Mr. Harris when Eric W. Baker, chairman of the Humber Valley Conservative Authority, at left, put up sign.—S.N.S. photo.

NORONIC HEADED FOR SCRAP—Curious spectators get a close-up of the fire-blackened, rusted former pleasure cruiser Noronic, as she passes through the Burlington ship channel on her way to Hamilton, Ont., to be cut up. Traffic was tied up for the 20-minute passage of the ship.—S.N.S. photo.

GIVE STRICKEN LAD SPECIAL CAR—New car of Joe Reddick, 12, paralyzed from waist down, is a "Chad", built especially for him by Harry Chad and Cui Davey of the Reliance garage in Talbotville, Ont. Civic employees and friends of the London, Ont., boy financed its construction.—S.N.S. photo.

REPORT CRITICIZES ROYAL CANADIAN NAVY—Almost everything under the heading "Royal Canadian Navy" came in for criticism in the report of the royal commission, inquiring into its affairs after "mutinies" aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent, the Albatross and the Crescent. Report was tabled in Commons. Here is the Magnificent arriving at Halifax after a cruise.—S.N.S. photo.

TWIN CITIES HAVE UNIQUE DRIVING SCHOOL—For first time in Canada high school students are being taught to drive safely and well at the Kitchener-Waterloo college and vocational school. Behind the plan are Principal W. T. Ziegler, W. M. Eiler, chairman of special education board committee; Bert C. Hall, who supplied car; A. W. Sandrock, past president, Ontario Motor League.—S.N.S. photo.

CHOOSE OUTSIDER—Patsy James of Welland, a University of Western Ontario student, was chosen member of Lambda Chi Alpha, University of Toronto fraternity, after the football game. This is first time fraternity has gone outside varsity for "outsider".—S.N.S. photo.

KNOWN BY LETTER—The letter "K" before the license number of an airplane denotes that it is licensed for experimental purposes.
